Hello, we are a respectful and hardworking family of four from Afghanistan looking for a new place to call home. I am a software engineer at Zartis, and my sister is a freelance graphic designer. We are a pet-free and smoke-free family. We have been renting for the past eight months, but unfortunately, our current landlord is selling their house, so we are in need of a new home. We are searching for a three-bedroom house that can comfortably accommodate our family. We take pride in being respectful tenants who prioritize maintaining a clean and organized living space. We are quiet and considerate individuals who enjoy spending time together but are mostly out during the day due to work and job-seeking activities. We are open to different locations as long as they are safe and accessible by public transportation. Our budget is around $2,500 per month, and we are looking for a long-term lease. We have a good rental history and can provide references from our previous landlords upon request. Thank you for considering our family as potential tenants. We are eager to find a new home and look forward to hearing from you soon.
